2. Read the dialogue

A. I feel ill

B. You should go to bed.

A. That's a good idea.

3. Work in pairs. Give each other advice. Use you should and an expression from above.

5 Giving advice: should

I'm not registered with a dentist and I have a very bad toothache

Oh you should try my dentist. He's really good. You should ring now and see if he can fit you in.

Use

- You give advice when you suggest actions to other people. Using the word should is a common way of asking for and offering advice in both formal and informal situations.

Form

- Should* is a modal verb. It is followed by the infinitive of the main verb without to.

Sentence	You should take more exercise. You should ask for some time off work.
Negative	Mumtaz shouldn't eat a lot of sweet things. You shouldn't work so hard .
Question	Should I take the tablets before or after meals? Should I see him now ?

- Should* is a modal verb which does not change form

	First person	Second person	Third person
Singular	I should go.	You should go.	He/She should go.
Plural	We should go.	You should go.	They should go.

Common errors

- Using to before the main verb or adding -ing to the main verb:

She should to get it from the chemist. x
He should going home early. x

She should get it from the chemist ✓
He should go home early. ✓
